Acrylic Colors

I recommend professional grade acrylics such as Golden or Liquitex.

Have at least one set of primary colors (red, blue, yellow) Plus raw or burnt umber and titanium white. Buy artist grade white even if all other paints are student grade.

This limited list of colors will get you started for the first class. We will discuss additional supplies during class.

Some examples:

- Cadmium red medium, ultramarine blue, cadmium yellow medium
- or -
- Alizarin crimson or naphthol crimson, phthalocyanine (phthalo) blue, hansa yellow

Other Supplies

- Water container
- Paper towels
- Stretched canvases, canvas boards or canvas pads
- Assorted reference materials (photos, photocopies on your phone or tablet). Anything you find interesting or inspiring is appropriate.
- A Flat palette. I highly recommend a disposable paint palette pad, but even paper plates or aluminum foil will do. I do not recommend the small plastic palettes intended for watercolors.

Optional

- Acrylic Clear Medium - matte or gloss
- Mister or spray bottle for water (keeps paints moist on the palette)
- Drawing implement for sketching on the canvas and a sketchbook
