Acrylic Paint - Heavy Body Only

C.P. Cadmium Yellow Light

Yellow Oxide or Yellow Ochre

Raw Sienna

C.P. Cadmium Red Light

Naphthol Red Light

Naphthol Crimson (Liquitex) or Naphthol Red Medium (Golden)

Quinacridone Red (Utrecht) or Quinacridone Red (Golden) or Quinacridone Crimson (Liquitex)

Thio Violet (Grumbacher Student Grade) or Quinacridone Magenta (Golden)

Dioxazine Purple

Ultramarine Blue

Phthalo Blue (Green Shade)

Phthalo Green (Blue Shade)

Hookers Green

Titanium White - I prefer professional grade like Golden or Utrecht

Mars Black

I prefer these professional lines of acrylic paint: Golden, Utrecht (sold through Dick Blick) and Liquitex Professional (not Basics)

While these are more expensive paints the upside is they will last longer because they have a higher pigment load and will provide a better painting experience than the student grade lines. However, professional brands are not a must for class. Bring what you have and what fits your budget and we will make it work!

Brushes

Bring all brushes you have that you want to use with acrylic paint - the bigger the better!

Try to have a variety of natural bristles and synthetic; Flat/Angle Bright/Filbert; Medium to Large size. At a minimum bring 2 large-sized brushes and 2 medium-sized brushes.

If you don't have any large brushes I suggest getting a few of the following:

- 4" Mod Podge Synthetic Paddle Brush (Amazon, Walmart, Hobby Lobby, Michael's)
- Any Household Painter's Brushes 2",3",4",5",6" (synthetic or natural bristles)
- Wooster 2" shortcut polyester angle sash brush (Home Depot, Lowe's)

For medium sized brushes - size #12 and up, I suggest the following brands:

- Princeton Catalyst
- Princeton Refine Series 5400 Natural Bristle Brushes
- Princeton Ashley Series 5200 Natural Bristle Brushes
- Princeton Dakota Series 6300 Firm Synthetic Hair Brushes
- Princeton Redline Series 6700 Synthetic Brushes
